

The forty second street gym is the best book about boxing ^{that} I've ever seen or seen. It is very reminiscent of ~~great significant~~ ^{great} book "Ballet" in the way it captures the atmosphere of the boxer's world. You can almost hear the thud of the gloves hitting ~~the~~ each other and smell of the smother and perspiration. All in all this is a wonderful accomplishment

DM